Shifting Scenes in Public Life.

By the time that Congress has been some months in session, the members form fast friendships, and the impulse to have a little fun now and then will assert itself. The other day one of the large paintings on the stairway was being taken down, rope and tackle were required to handle the gigantic gilt frame, and the senators stopped while going to lunch to discuss it.

One of the Democrats remarked that "if we are going to make real changes in this administration, let us make some that the people will recognize as they come and go. You'll notice that Colonel Roosevelt's and President Taft's portraits no longer adorn the executive office," he finished exultantly. We must let the shifting pictures into the story in these "movie times."—"Affairs at Washington," by Joe Mitchell-Chapple, in National Magazine.

The Road to Successville.

"The road to success—I speak of financial success—is rarely long and arduous," said George W. Perkins in one of his brilliant Y. M. C. A. addresses in Cleveland. "It is, as a rule, short and easy."

"A man nodded toward a handsome young millionaire and said:
"He began, I suppose, as an office boy in the establishment, and worked his way up, step by step, to his present management of the whole vast business?"

"Not at all," was the dry answer.
"Not at all. He began as Harvard's champion baseballer and married the boss' daughter."

Japan in Korea.

Japan has undertaken to reforest the bare hills of Korea, and in the last few years has planted 12,000,000 trees in that country.

This is a piece of far-sighted common sense which is bound to benefit the Korean people, even though not designed for that purpose. No American feels like approving the way in which Japan overrode the rights of a weaker power and annexed Korea, but every candid observer must admit that the mikado's men have carried with them better government and a higher civilization.—Chicago Journal.

FINE EXPERIENCE.

Department Store Manager—Can
